

Carmen Ciricillo is a nationally touring comedian and motivational speaker. Currently he appears daily on the Discovery Channel's "Your New House" television program. He also has a principle role in three national television commercials for Michael Holigan Homes, and also tour on the NASCAR circuit with the Michael Holigan Homes #25 car.

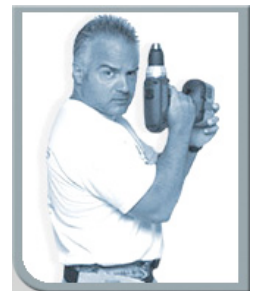

Of Course, Carmen does have material on other topics such as family, being Italian, relationships and much more. He has performed for hundreds of comedy clubs from "Catch a Rising Star" in Vegas, to the "Punchline" in Atlanta and San Francisco.

Carmen also writes humorous short stories on the construction business for several magazines, has sold jokes to Jay Leno and the "Tonight Show". He has also does 150 personal appearances at comedy clubs, colleges, corporations, trade shows and associations a year.

Carmen has developed a unique routine based on the construction industry. He is known nationally as the Construction Comic to hundreds of construction related associations and corporations. His clean and humorous angle on this industry has earned him recommendations from the highest sources. He has been asked many times to perform encore performances, often within the same year.

Carmen's construction niche in the comedy business has helped him attain national recognition. From his early days working in the comedy clubs, his construction routine began receiving praise from bookers and producers on a higher level. This led to performances at major trade shows to speaking with celebrities and sports stars such as Fran Tarkenton and Rocky Bleier. He is now a regular cast member on Michael Holigan's "Your New House", which airs daily on the Discovery Channel.

Acting has been a new adventure for Carmen. He has been on local and regional shows in the past but things are changing. From his television commercials in 1999 he has been gaining attention for bigger things. Recently he auditioned in New York at "Silvercup Studios" for Executive Producer, David Chase and Casting Director, Georgianne Walken, for the "Sopranos". Getting on television has increased Carmen's marketability tremendously and his future has never looked brighter.
