

Ron Dentinger

Humorist On The Banquet Circuit

Do you need a banquet speaker? Try booking a clean comedian that will have your guests bursting at the seams. Ron Dentinger does a 30 minute routine of CLEAN HUMOR that generates hard laughter.

For over nineteen years Ron has traveled from coast to coast on the banquet circuit, but he got into his comedy accidentally. He was entertaining musically, but wasn't 'at home' behind a microphone. Eventually he started collecting jokes, which led to his library of over 2000 humor and joke books, a collection that rivals any in the country.

In the early years, before going out on the banquet circuit, Ron wrote jokes and sold them to some of the country's all-time comedy greats, including: Rodney Dangerfield, Henny Youngman and Joan Rivers. Event planners should know that his comedy is clean, yet funny and has always been priced right!

You have regularly seen him quoted in "The Readers Digest" and regularly heard him quoted on ABC Radio, by Paul Harvey.

Ron says, "Eventually I was being asked to emcee various functions and before long I was being contracted to be the program at these functions. This soon interfaced with my 'real job' in the hospitality industry. Then in 1984/85 I was selected as the Wisconsin winner in the 'Funniest Person in America' contest. I decided to leave my real job to do comedy full-time."

For the past 19 years Ron has been booked by corporations and associations from coast to coast, for everything from awards banquets to retirement parties, to getting a seminar off on a positive note. He has written two joke books: HOW TO ARGUE WITH YOUR SPOUSE and DOWN TIME.

His routine is never specifically geared to the group because he feels that can be risky. He says, "People are first people, and only after that, they are whatever it is they do at their job." Ron says, "If you are not part of the group, you may not be aware of what's sacred to the group." Ron Dentinger feels that humor not only has a place in the work place, it is actually needed.

Rave Reviews

"Thank you for the superb job you did. My 80-year-old mother like you; my 23-year-old son like you; even the person who comes to the convention every year just to complain like you! thanks for helping us have a successful convention!"

"Speaking to a group of public speakers is tough duty, but you left a lasting impression. In fact, there was only one negative comment: You rattled off so many jokes that you made it hard to steal your material. Seriously, you were a pleasure to work with and your program was right on target."

"Your fine humorous entertainment was greatly enjoyed by everyone. Not only was it funny, but it was also not offensive in any way, and we would highly recommend you to any group."

"You wowed the audience. Thank you so much for giving our Consumer Lending Seminar a very neat, very funny closing presentation."

"A simple THANK YOU is hardly sufficient for what you gave all of us Tuesday evening. No doubt about it...you made our evening, and really tied our conference together. To make a long story short, you were SUPER! you made me look good."
