Corporate Comedy A Cappella

Ron Feingold is fast becoming a much talked about corporate performer.

Since 1990, Ron has performed for corporations across the country and has made the experience unique, fun and best of all--a CLEAN corporate show that is appropriate for all audiences! Once a show is booked, Ron springs into action and sends a questionnaire to the company so Ron can write customized material for that particular show. Ron's corporate show is an energetic, musical comedy experience that tailors material toward the company and the people attending the event.

The show is broken down into three parts:

- Comedy A Cappella
- Customized Material with Audience Participation
- Stand-Up Comedy!

First, Ron brings his up-tempo songs and contemporary favorites as well as classics to each show for a foot-tapping musical experience. Songs like "Oh What a Night," "Brick House," "Celebration," a unique medley of Jim Croce songs, a medley of impressions to include Nat King Cole (and Natalie too!), Neil Diamond, Willie Nelson and Julio Iglesias, a special appearance from Kermit the Frog and Joe Cocker!

There are also hilarious songs and parodies like "The Home Depot Song," "A Day in the Life," "Scream!" and "Kosher Ham." Secondly, Ron investigates each corporation thoroughly and gathers as much information possible to write special material for each show. He then uses this material along with audience participation surprising corporate audiences with researched information and comedy in an unforgettable fashion!

Finally, Ron's clean stand-up comedy is scattered throughout the show incorporating material about music including more impressions, relationships (especially his loving wife) and jokes that every audience can identify with. Ron makes every effort to insure that your Corporate Show or Holiday Event is a memorable and unique musical-comedy experience!
