

RICK & PAUL

Truly “A Dynamic Acoustic Duo”, Rick & Paul combine strong vocals, intricate guitar leads, and solid rhythmic patterns to produce a unique and vibrantly full sound. Veteran performers, each with many years of experience, they have entertained hundreds since combining their talents in January of 2005.

Rick & Paul’s song list is as extensive as their musical careers. With selections spanning from the 1960s to the present, they have the ability to please a wide variety of audiences. They cover many styles from artists such as The Beatles, The Eagles, Stevie Ray Vaughn, Pearl Jam, Travis Tritt, Santana, Steely Dan, Lynard Skynard, and Bruce Springstein to name a few. They also write and perform their own style of acoustic music.

“I can’t believe all that music comes from just two guys!” and “How do they make an acoustic guitar sound like that?” are just two quotes heard at many of Rick & Paul’s performances. No matter how they do it, Rick & Paul are a “must see” act that will amaze and entertain you. Rick & Paul truly are “A Dynamic Acoustic Duo”.

RICK DAWSON

Picking up the guitar at age 5, Rick demonstrated an immediate talent for the instrument. This gift became quite apparent when he had the opportunity to play with James Burbon (lead guitarist for Elvis) at the ripe old age of 11. Throughout his career, Rick has recorded albums with Country Music Hall Of Fame Winners, as well as, members of “Toto”. In addition to his abilities as a talented guitarist, Rick is also a proficient bassist and drummer.

PAUL SPECK

Paul started taking classical piano training and performing at recitals when he was 7 years old. At age 12, a cousin introduced Paul to the guitar and, a year later, he formed his first band. Throughout his career, Paul has performed many styles of music including rock, pop, country, soul, disco, jazz, and heavy metal. He has also had the opportunity to perform with members of Blue Oyster Cult and Overkill. Paul's many years of experience have molded him into a well-seasoned musician and very proficient guitarist.
